Kewaunee County to Merge Zoning with Land & Water Conservation

LUXEMBURG, WI – Kewaunee County is merging services provided by its Zoning Department with its Land & Water Conservation Department to become more efficient.

The consolidation comes as Kewaunee County is looking to hire a Conservation Specialist following the recent retirement of long-time employee Glenn Selner, who served as the Director of Zoning with Kewaunee County for nearly 40 years.

“Mr. Selner was a fixture in local government and he was very dedicated to his job,” says Scott Feldt, Kewaunee County Administrator. “The goal of this merger is to maximize on the experience that we already have in house with the ability to cross-train new staff.”

The ideal job candidate for the new position will already have or be able to obtain licensing as a Certified Soil Tester (CST) and accreditation for inspecting Private Onsite Wastewater Treatment Systems (POWTS) as well as be able to perform duties assigned by the Director of the Land & Water Conservation Department.

“This is our opportunity to boost productivity and work as an even better team that can dig deeper into environmental issues surrounding ground water contamination,” says Davina Bonness, Director of Kewaunee County Land & Water Conservation Department.

Effective Wednesday, July 25, 2018, the Zoning Office located at the Kewaunee County Administration Center, 810 Lincoln Street, Kewaunee is now part of the Land & Water Conservation Department Office at the Kewaunee County Fairgrounds, 625 3rd Street, Luxemburg. The phone number for Zoning will remain, (920) 388-7192.
